

To Whom It May Concern,

This is to certify that Zhaoyu Zhang has done his internship in the Department of Industry Development at iFLYTEK CO.,LTD, Wuhan, that commenced on July 22, 2021 and ended on September 22, 2021.

During the internship ZhaoYu has conducted two independent research, namely, the Macro policies of digital economy through a comparative method, as well as theories and techniques applied to the business domain of optical fiber communication. In addition, he has completed a computational lab involving model establishment, training and improvement through the use of sample linguistic data. He presented his overall research/lab process and results by the end of each project phase.

Zhaoyu has done an excellent job with an aptitude of learning and capability to comprehend diverse concepts. He possesses quite strong analytical skills, team spirit, along with problem-solving ability. We are very glad to have him in our team for the past two months while he respects and gets along very well with his supervisor and colleagues. Not only has he shown great passion for his job, but also has he made good efforts to improve his professional skills, and never hesitated to ask senior co-workers while encountering difficulties. Co-workers have been deeply impressed by his working attitude and skill sets.

We wish him best of luck for future endeavors.

Sincerely,
Sihan Gao
Manager of Industry Development Department
(+86)18086413167
shgao@iflytek.com